Dear Subscriber

Welcome to our e-newsletter.

Show Day is very fast approaching and we are sure that there will be a great day of entertainment for everyone.

Currently there is much activity in getting all the information collated for the catalogue which involves all of the section secretaries and many of the officers of the association.

The Showyard Directors are now planning the layout of the trade stands on paper in preparation for marking out the Showground in the next few days. As ever there will be a very good attendance of Trade Stands, with the recession having had no significant impact.

The Horse Section tell us that they have near record levels of entries so we can look forward to very busy rings throughout Show Day.

We expect to see the first marquee appear on site in the next day or two and the remainder will arrive in the week running up to Show Day, when once again the Show Ground will be visible from miles around.

The seats which were available as memorials or for sponsorship have now all been allocated and constructed. We are very grateful to Rex Manhire, a Past President and Chairman, for his initiative in arranging not only the supply of the seats but also the construction of them all.

The picture shows Rex Manhire (right) with the 2009 Show President, Clive Bowden and a few of the seats which have just had their final coat of varnish.

We look forward to seeing you all on Show Day.
