

SHOW DAY - JULY 12 2010

Dear Subscriber

It will be Show time very soon and we hope you are all looking forward to the day.

The Showyard Directors and various helpers are on site and last minute preparations are being undertaken. Some of the marquees have been erected and once again the Showground is easily identifiable from many miles around. Some Trade Stands have started to arrive and the seating is being set up around the Horse rings.

As the marquees appear on site equipment is being placed therein so that the individual sections are able to get their part of the Show ready for the competitors and public. The bulk of the activity will take place in the evenings of this week and over the weekend.

You may recall, that we mentioned before, that Prime Productions will be making a DVD of this year's proceedings and they have already been on site filming some of the preparatory work and working out the best camera angles for use on the day. It is hoped that they will be able to capture aspects of all elements of the Show. Prime Productions will be providing a number of video clips for use on the Show web site and we will let you know when and where the DVDs will be available in due course. Prime Productions will be entirely responsible for the acceptance and fulfilment of orders.

We hope that this will provide an enduring memory of this year's Show.
